Saturday & Sunday, December 3rd and 4th, 2011
9 AM to 5 PM, Salem Oregon

Virgin Organic Carrier Oils are purely cold-pressed with no heat processing. They carry all of their rich healing essentials, nutrients, vitamins and pain-relievers and are the mother/carrier of essential oils.

Most carrier oils, yes, even Certified Organic, are at least partially-processed [also known as deodorization/high-heat evaporation at 500-degrees] to increase their self-life. This process sacrifices most of a carriers protective essential healing properties and contributes to the formation of trans-fatty acids. These acids can factor in a myriad of illnesses for the practitioner, including; obesity, migraines, allergies and immune system disorders.

As massage practitioners we can use half-a-gallon of oil each month. Our oil-loving skin can absorb as much as 60% of that oil. For this reason oils should be food-grade quality and considered medicinal in nature. Perhaps our motto should be "If you wouldn't eat it, don't use it!"

The fragrance in Virgin Carrier oil comes from its inherent chemical make-up which can be partially identified through its color and viscosity. Sunflower Oils bright-golden color reveals the presence of a full-spectrum of Vitamin E. Virgin Hemp Seed helps reduce swelling and muscle pain revealed by its soothing dark green color and phenol content.

This weekend will be a hands-on class. We will work with and deeply explore the use of 15 important Virgin Carrier oils; their psychology, healing direction and actions; how to use/mix them with their individual genetic family essentials and their influence on the body/mind.

Using the right Virgin Carrier oil in our practice can be of great assistance to the client in reducing pain and tension while protecting and enhancing their health as well as our own.
